MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, JANUARY 13, 1903.

NUMBER 42.

WHAT'S NECESSARY

To Entitle Persons to Rural Free Delivery of Mail.

Must Erect Box of Approved Design—Other Requirements Specified by the Department.

Under the rules of the Postoffice Department each person desiring rural free delivery service must erect at his own cost, and in the manner prescribed by the regulations of the department, a box complying with the specifications of the department; and approved by the Postmaster General. There are a number of such boxes on the market, and postmasters can furnish all necessary information on the subject. Experience has shown that boxes opening at the side or top are more convenient than those opening at the end.

Boxes thus marked "Approved by the Postmaster General" will come under the protection of that provision of the Act making appropriation for Postal Service of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1903, (approved April 21st, 1902,) which reads as follows:

"Whoever shall hereafter willfully or maliciously injure, tear down or destroy any letter box or other receptacle established by order of the Postmaster General or approved or designated by him for the receipt or delivery of mail matter on any rural free delivery route, or shall break open the same or willfully or maliciously injure, deface or destroy any mail matter deposited therein, or shall willfully take or steal such matter from or out of such letter box or receptacle, or shall willfully aid or assist in any of the aforesaid offenses, shall for such offense be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by imprisonment for not more than three years."

Each box must be erected by the roadside, so that the carrier can easily obtain access to it without dismounting from his vehicle. The same box must not be used for more than one family, except in the case of near relatives or those residing in the same house.

Persons neglecting or refusing to comply with these conditions will be regarded as not desiring rural free delivery, and the rural carrier will be directed not to serve them.

Parties living along any rural route can secure stamped envelopes bearing printed return request as follows: "If not called for in — days return to —, Postoffice, Rural Route No. —."

Rural carriers are not permitted to act as agents, salesmen or solicitors for express companies, wholesale houses, corporations or firms, but the law provides that the carriers shall not be prohibited from doing an express package business; provided, it does not interfere with the discharge of their official duties. Section 214 of the Postal Laws and Regulations prohibits them from holding any county or municipal office. They may act as agents for newspaper publishers, sell newspapers or periodicals on their own account, or accept and collect subscriptions for the same. When carriers receive newspapers or periodicals by express, or other means outside the mails, they will be required to pay postage on such matter at the second-class rate of postage (1 cent per pound), except in the case of county newspapers, which are mailed free to subscribers residing in the county in which they are published.

Col. Sam H. Stone, former Auditor of Kentucky but now President of the Stone Tobacco Warehouse Company of Louisville, has accepted the chairmanship of the Sub-Finance Committee on tobacco of the Kentucky Exhibit Association, and will at once begin an active canvass among the tobacco firms and corporations of the State for subscriptions to the $100,000 fund now being raised. The following well-known tobaccoists have been appointed on Col. Stone's committee: A. C. Tompkins, Owensboro; R. H. Soaper, Henderson; John Bullard, Hopkinsville; W. O. Head, Charles Bridges, John Brown, John J. Hetterman, Basil Doerhoffer and J. A. Lancaster, Louisville. Several additional committeemen are to be named by Col. Stone. He will probably see that every big tobacco growing county in the State has representation, so the contributions will be large.

What to Do With Great Monopolies.
[By Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott of Brooklyn.]
Whenever a combination of capital gets what is needed for our comfort or convenience then it is a monopoly, whether created by government or not. There is then just one of three things for the government to do—first, open a free competition again; second, regulate the monopoly in the public interest; or, third, own and operate the monopoly itself for the public welfare.

IRISH LAND QUESTION.

An Agreement Reached Between the Landlords and Tenants.

London, Jan. 12.—The most notable movement that has occurred in Ireland for several generations has been the agreement upon the land question by representatives of landlords and tenants. Extreme landowners, who at the outset did their utmost to make the Dublin Mansion House conference futile, now see that the representatives of the tenants are more than willing to go halfway in an endeavor to bring about permanent peace in agrarian Ireland. Chief Secretary Wyndham is anxious to make the most of the opportunity, and it is believed indeed that Premier Balfour and the majority of the cabinet agree with the king that a great effort should now be made to settle the whole question. What is feared is that the treasury may face the situation in a haggling spirit. The tenants are now full of expectation and are looking forward to obtaining holdings on the terms laid down in the report, but if the treasury fails to give the necessary financial assistance, the whole scheme will most assuredly collapse.

Ohio Miners in Convention.

Columbus, O., Jan. 12.—Delegates of the United Mine Workers of Ohio are gathering here for the annual convention, which will be held in I. O. O. F. hall. William H. Haskins, who has just been re-elected, will preside. The convention will last the greater part of the week. The majority of the delegates will then go to Indianapolis to attend the convention of the national organization, which convenes on Tuesday, Jan. 19. The Ohio miners will have less recommendations to make this year to the national convention than ever before. There will be but three important ones and the miners will contest every inch of ground in an endeavor to have them granted. The three principal demands will be: An increase of 25 per cent in the mining rate; weighing of coal by run-of-mine system; settlement of outside day labor question.

Coal Resolution.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Senator Stewart of Nevada, who is conducting the coal investigation before the committee of the District of Columbia, introduced a resolution providing that the committee shall be authorized to send for persons and papers, administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses. Owing to the expense involved the resolution had to go to the committee on contingent expenses of the senate. The object of the resolution is to secure the attendance of officers of the coal roads and coal companies and to secure testimony from dealers in the city who have refused to answer questions.

Coldest of the Winter.

Detroit, Jan. 12.—Following on the heels of the most severe snowstorm of the season came the coldest snap of the winter on this city. The thermometer registered 5 degrees below zero. The zero temperature was general all over the peninsula with the exception of a section close to the shore of Lake Michigan near Grand Haven. The ferries had great trouble plowing through the ice in the river with their trains. Both the ferries, Landsdowne and the Great Western spent hours in the river bucking the ice with passenger trains aboard.

Secretary Moody Injured.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The superintendent of the naval academy telephoned to the White House that during the reception to Secretary Moody and Senator Hale at Annapolis the horses attached to their carriage ran away and Secretary Moody was thrown out and slightly bruised. Senator Hale escaped uninjured.

Wife of Minister Wu.

San Francisco, Jan. 12.—Madame Wu, wife of Wu Ting Fang, late Chinese minister to the United States, has arrived here from the east, accompanied by Che Chang, secretary of the legation at Washington, and a maid servant. She will sail for China on the steamer Korea this week.

Miners Crushed.

Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 12.—Hillard Probst and Ira Green were crushed to death while digging coal near Bitumen, Clinton county. The two men went into a small private mine to dig coal for the use of their families when the roof caved in, killing them.

Colonel Morrison Very Ill.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Colonel William R. Morrison, former interstate commerce commissioner, is lying critically ill at his home in Waterloo, Ill. A consultation has been held. Dr. Bryson of St. Louis being called in. It was decided that an operation was necessary, but the advanced age of the colonel, he being in his seventeenth year renders this precarious.

AGAINST THEM.

Trusts Receive an Excoriation at the Hands of Yerkes.

Big Street Railway Magnate Says Combines Are Killing Export Trade—Labor Not Helped.

NEW YORK, January 10.—Charles T. Yerkes, the international street railway magnate, today excoriated combines, declaring they were ruining the export trade of the United States and would eventually bring disaster.

Mr. Yerkes was asked if he had made any purchases in America for the subway he is building in London. He replied:

"Hardly. If anything my visit has had the effect of killing any latent desire I might have had in that direction. The London roads will be built and equipped with English material, and as far as possible with English labor. To tell the candid truth, American materials are all very high—enormously high—and we will buy nothing in this country except what we are compelled to, for the reasons I have stated."

"Since the corporations have been absorbing the business interests of this country the American materials and commodities have been slowly disappearing from the European markets. False reports spread by the agents of the corporations will hide the actual conditions for a time, but the prices now maintained are outrageous."

"Take steel for instance. It is now about 40 per cent. higher than three or four years ago. It is becoming a drug on the foreign markets. The European business interests are in open revolt against this sort of brigandage. Cars that could be purchased only three years ago for $1,850 are now quoted at $3,600. Most things are in the same proportion, and I know that American labor is not the beneficiary."

"You do not believe in combines?"
"Emphatically, I do not. I firmly believe that the corporations are doing this country a great deal of harm. Except where we can beat the foreign manufacturer with our machinery there is no chance for American goods to be sold in foreign countries. This is a condition, I say, of the last two or three years—since the combines came prominently to the front."

"Do you think that the large companies will be able to keep up the prices of material?"

"I do not, and recent investigations confirm that opinion," he said.

"What will be the result in case of a break in prices?"

"The interest and dividends of the watered shares will be lost and the shares become almost worthless."

"Then you think this era of prosperity will not last long?"

Mr. Yerkes hesitated and then replied:

"It will last only until something happens, either bad crops or political disturbances or financial difficulties or some matter that will disturb the financial world. Then look out; something will drop. When everything is on the high wave of prosperity it is difficult to see how there is to be a change—just as when adversity predominates it is almost impossible to believe things can mend."

Grand Sachem Pelham Moves to Lexington.

(Lexington Democrat.)

Great Sachem of the Improved Order of Red Men of Kentucky, W. C. Pelham, has come to Lexington to make his future home. He has opened a cigar and tobacco store at 107 West Main street, and expects to bring his family from Mayville to this city. He reports the order in splendid shape and the membership greatly increased in the State in the past year. There are several new tribes to be organized, among them one at Flemingsburg.

Capt. Oscar Barrett goes to San Antonio Wednesday evening to spend a week or ten days with his wife and daughter, who are there for the winter. Mrs. Barrett's friends will be glad to learn her health is much improved. She writes that she has gained six pounds in weight since her arrival at that place.

Osege Tribe No. 45, Improved Order of Red Men, of Falmouth, was re-organized last month and removed to Lexington. The tribe is furnishing a new wigwag there, and have thirty-five new members awaiting the adoption ceremonies, which will be conferred by the tribe from Angola.

Ice was gathered five inches thick near the city Monday.

TO RAISE THE BLOCKADE.

Negotiations Are Proceeding Between the Interested Powers.

Rome, Jan. 12.—Negotiations between the co-operating powers relative to raising the blockade of the Venezuelan coast are proceeding, the main point being guarantees for the payment of claims should the warships be withdrawn. The Italian foreign office recognizes the correctness of the contention in Secretary Hay's last note, that a continuance of the blockade will only further impoverish Venezuela and make the settlement of the claims more difficult, and is desirous of meeting the suggestion of the United States. At the same time it can not act without an agreement with Germany and Great Britain. As the quickest solution, the suggestion is again mooted whether the United States might not again be asked to guarantee the payment of the sums awarded, now that the situation has so completely changed.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Leather Belting Plant Attacked and Quickly Consumed.

New York, Jan. 12.—Fire destroyed the 8-story building at Alton and East Houston streets, which was occupied by Fayerweather & Ladew, manufacturers of leather belting. The loss will exceed $50,000. The firm had 1,000 employees, who will temporarily be out of employment. Large quantities of oil and grease were stored in the building, and these made the fire fiercely hot and caused two explosions. One of them nearly caught a squad of firemen with sheets of flame, and as a result of the other a water tower of the fire department was destroyed. The occupants of all nearby buildings, including a thickly populated tenement house, were driven out.

Building Consumed.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Fire destroyed a 4-story building at Dearborn and Illinois street, causing a loss of $60,000. It started on the first floor and spread rapidly, due to the frozen fire-plugs, which had to be thawed before a stream of water could be brought into play. A number of business concerns occupied the building and suffered loss in varying sums, the heaviest being those of Sun Leather and Saddlery company, F. J. Ferguson Steam Heating appliances, the Roberts Portable Oven company and the F. C. Christy Engraving company.

Baby Fell into the Fire.

Cincinnati, Jan. 12.—Warren, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cason of Covington, Ky., was burned to death. The little fellow, with his elder brother Willie, 5, had been left alone by their mother. They were sitting by an open fire and the baby tripped on a rug and fell into the open fire. His elder brother ran screaming into the street. James Hoskins, who was passing, rushed into the house. The baby was burned to death.

Senator Jones' Successor.

Little Rock, Jan. 12.—The Arkansas legislature convened at noon. Hon. Joseph L. Short of Fulton county had no opposition for the presidency of the upper body. There is a lively contest for the speakership of the house. The election of a United States senator will not occur for several days. Ex-Governor James P. Clarke is the Democratic nominee, and there is no doubt of his election to succeed Senator James K. Jones.

Fatal Fire in Fifth Avenue.

New York, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Florine Henry, wife of Philip S. Henry, a wealthy coffee merchant, and daughter of the late banker, Leonard Lewisohn, was burned to death in a fire that almost entirely destroyed the residence of the family in Fifth avenue. Alberta Erickson, a domestic, jumped from the fourth story window and received injuries from which she died soon afterwards.

Effect of the Blockade.

New York, Jan. 12.—Referring to the situation in Venezuela, a London correspondent says the opinion expressed by the leading officials there is that the blockade has evidently oppressed Castro, and that he has given up all hope of American intervention.

Killed by Jumping.

St. Louis, Jan. 12.—Fire broke out in a negro lodging house in West Pine street, and Mrs. Helen Brown and her daughter, Eugenia, were killed by jumping from an upper floor. Jennie Johnson was badly bruised by jumping. The other 21 lodgers escaped, saving only their night clothing.

Doctor Weeks.

Marion, O., Jan. 12.—Dr. Oliver Wendell Weeks, past surgeon general of the national encampment and well known to all grand army men, is dead, after a lingering illness. He was 62 years old and prominent in Masonic circles and state politics.

COURT STREET FIRE.

Offices of Congressman Kehoe and Others Guttered by Flames.

Law Libraries Destroyed and Other Damage Done—Rough Time For Firemen.

Shortly before 3 o'clock this morning, with the temperature close to zero, the law offices of Congressman Kehoe and Mr. M. A. Ruggles on the east side of Court street were discovered on fire. The alarm was promptly given, but at that hour and with such a temperature to face considerable time elapsed before the firemen reached the scene and got water on the flames.

It's always a hard enough job fighting fire under the most favorable conditions, and the bitter cold added greatly to the difficulties. The flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building. It was gutted, and Mr. Kehoe's and Mr. Ruggles' law libraries were completely destroyed. The offices of the Bond Medicine Company and of Mr. Russell Warder, insurance agent, immediately under Mr. Kehoe's offices, were also burned out. For a time it was feared the bank of Mitchell, Finch & Co., McCarthy's jewelry store and the offices over them on the north and Power's tin store on east would be destroyed, but the flames were gotten under control before these suffered much damage.

The building belonged to Mr. A. R. Glascock and his is the principal loss. It is thought the building will have to be rebuilt from the foundation up. The damage on it is placed at about $2,500, and it was insured for about $2,000 in Mr. W. R. Warder's agency.

It was reported at first that all of Mr. Kehoe's law library was in the office, but it was learned later that his Kentucky Reports valued at $350 or $400 were in Slattery & Collins' office. The rest of his law library, except a few books at his home, was lost, together with Mr. Ruggles' law books.

Part of Judge Newell's library was also in the office and was lost. Mr. Newell carried some insurance, but it was not known this morning whether Mr. Kehoe and Mr. Ruggles had any on their books or not. Mr. Warder's office fixtures were insured.

The supposition is that the fire started from coal falling out of the grate in Mr. Ruggles' office. Mr. Ruggles was not at home, however, Monday, and if the fire started on the second floor it probably originated from some other source.

The adjoining buildings were only slightly damaged. The cornice, doors and windows of the State National Bank building on opposite side of the street were scorched.

The members of the fire companies are very grateful to Dr. Reed, President of Mitchell, Finch & Co.'s Bank, and to Manager Dougherty, of the Central Hotel, for their thoughtfulness in furnishing some steaming hot coffee for the boys. In the bitter cold they had a rough time of it, and the coffee afforded some relief to their sufferings.

Fine ice is being gathered in the county.

Mrs. W. H. Yancy, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Coasting is being much enjoyed by the young people in the surrounding country.

It is estimated that nearly two-thirds of the tobacco grown in the county has been stripped.

WITHIN a week after Mr. Rockefeller gave the last million to Dr. Harper's University the Standard Oil Company made the largest single advance in prices known in years. The advance netted the trust sixteen million dollars, which was a nice profit on a million-dollar philanthropic deal, remarks Bryan's Commonwealth. Maysville pays her tribute, of course. Oil is now retailing at 12 cents in this city.

EVERY section of Kentucky will have an interest in the big display of leaf tobacco that is to be made at the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904 by the Kentucky Exhibit Association. There are very few counties that will not have some fine specimens of the "weed" to show. The committee on Leaf Tobacco Exhibit is one of the strongest committees yet named. Besides Mr. Campbell, the Chairman, there are fourteen members, as follows: J. M. Vaughan, Owensboro; Ed. Rice, Kelsey; W. H. Cummings, Hopkinsville; E. L. Hendrick, Bowling Green; Daniel Peed, Paris; James Bright, Shelbyville; Dr. J. M. Frazee, Maysville; George Ligon, Mayfield; R. H. Soaper, Henderson; E. J. O'Brien, Joseph Robinson, Frank Harping, W. O. Head, A. P. Barnard, Louisville. In the personnel of this committee is not only represented every section of the State, but every variety of tobacco has one or more representatives. All of these gentlemen have accepted places on the committee and assured Mr. Campbell that they will see to it that Kentucky has the finest leaf tobacco at the exposition ever shown to the world.

MUST HEED THE CRY.

Hanna's campaign cry will, it seems, have to be discarded. "Stand Pat," is good enough for the coal barons, but not for freezing humanity. The cry for relief from the oppression of the trusts is becoming so loud that the Government must heed it or take the consequences. It is estimated that the coal trust is pocketing millions of dollars as a result of the high price of fuel; it is to the combine's financial interest to keep the supply down, and there will be no relief unless the strong arm of the law reaches out and puts a stop to the nefarious operations of the gang. On this point, the Chicago Inter-Ocean says:

The warning given by the President to certain Senators that there must be definite legislation by this Congress on the trust question is thoroughly approved and supported by the country.

The people are more interested in regulating the trusts than in any other question of domestic policy. Because of this interest the people at the polls in November confirmed the Republican party in power. Now the people demand from Congress fulfillment of the faith in which that confirmation was given.

The legislation that the people seek is not destructive, but constructive. They seek that overcapitalization be stopped, and interstate corporations be thus compelled to start honestly. They seek that the affairs of such corporations be given reasonable publicity, and their honest management be thus assured. They seek that producing corporations be effectively forbidden to discriminate among localities, and that transporting corporations be forbidden to discriminate among shippers.

The people have no objection to corporations merely because they are large and powerful. They see that such corporations are useful and necessary. But the people do demand that abuses of corporate power be restrained. In a word, the people are against destructive monopolies, and demand equality among corporations and before corporations, as they have equality among individuals before the law.

The time for making promises has passed. The time for performance is now. The Republican Senators who in any way deny or evade such performance are storing up for their party trouble at the polls in 1904.

Relatives here are in receipt of news of the death of Mrs. Mary Paxton, wife of Mr. W. M. Paxton, of Platte City, Mo. She died suddenly Jan. 9th in her eighty-fifth year. She was Miss Mary Forman, of Washington, and leaves a large number of relatives in this county. Her husband, with one daughter, survives.

BLANKETS

From the best American makers—and America makes the best blankets—we've gathered such blanket goodness as will appeal to every housewife. On a few lines prices are the same as those quoted in September when we broke the record in blanket value giving, but some lines are even cheaper now and you may be certain the standard of excellence has not been lowered. You can buy an excellent cotton blanket for $1 and then by easy stages you reach the luxurious elegance of our $7.50 blanket. A word of our banner blanket—a Mission Mill $7 blanket for $5. A finer value the entire American market doesn't offer.

TO CLOSE THE FURS.

The brisk selling of the past week has made decided inroads on our fur stock but enough remains to make choosing a pleasure. Prices are about half and you will be sure to find something suited to the lightest purse.

Said One Woman to Another

"Queer, isn't it, what creatures of habit we women are? We get in the habit of doing certain things and keep on doing them year after year, even when we have been told time and time again of a better way."

And so it is. Take for example soda crackers, or biscuit, probably there isn't a woman in the land who wouldn't say she knew all about Uneeda Biscuit, but as a matter of fact millions of women know nothing about them, or they would never again buy loose soda crackers in a paper bag.

When soda crackers are packed the ordinary way every cracker must be handled several times before it leaves the bakery. When the cracker box reaches the grocer, he, of course, uncovers it, the air and dust and flies get in and destroy the crispness and flavor of the crackers. Every time there is a call for crackers they must be handled again and again.

Every woman knows the above to be true, for she has seen it over and over again. Why then does anyone continue to buy crackers in this way?

It is not the price, for Uneeda Biscuit are only 5 cents.

It is not a question of taste, because everyone likes Uneeda Biscuit.

It is habit—simply habit.

Every woman by this time ought to know the advantages of buying Uneeda Biscuit. They are baked in the cleanest of bakeries, under the most rigid system of cleanliness and care. When they come from the oven they are immediately packed in In-er-seal Packages, an airtight, germ and moisture proof covering, which not only protects them from contamination, but actually preserves their original flavor until the package is opened.

Economy, cleanliness, healthfulness and delicacy are all found in Uneeda Biscuit in In-er-seal Package with red and white seal, and every careful housewife ought to know these facts, and knowing them should insist on having Uneeda Biscuit.

It does look as if the people have been waiting for our cut price sale.

Whilst at this season of the year most merchants reconcile themselves to just what happens to come along, we take an aggressive stand and hold out inducements that will make people buy despite the lateness of the winter. The public recognizes the values we give them in our Stein Bloch, Adler Bros. and Garson Meyer Clothing, all of which are now sold at 20 per cent. off from the regular price, and this accounts for the phenomenal business we are now having.

If interested in a Suit or Overcoat for yourself or boy look in every other clothing house in town before you come to us. It will not take you long to find out the cause of our house being constantly crowded with buyers.

Kentucky will require 2,500 square feet of space for her educational exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. This will be several times larger than that at Chicago in 1893. Prof. H. G. Brownell,
Principal of the Manual Training High School in Louisville, has accepted the Chairmanship of the Educational Committee of the Kentucky Exhibit Association and has asked the following well known educators to serve with him in collecting the best display in an educational way that Kentucky has ever made:
Prof. H. V. McChesney, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Frankfort; Dr. M.
A. Scovell, Lexington; Prof. R. P. Halleck, Louisville; Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, Louisville; Prof. F. Paul Ander-

FOREMEN CALLED TO THE STAND.

Number of Days Lost by the Men
Since the Strike—Price of Coal and Wage Statements.

Philadelphia, Jan. 12. — Brigadier General Wilson again presided at the session of the anthracite coal strike commission, Chairman Gray still being confined to his home by illness.
Abel I. Culver of New York, comptroller of the Delaware and Hudson, was called to the stand. Mr. Culver said that the wage statements handed in on Saturday were final, and that the miners' representatives have agreed that they are a fair presentation of the case. Mr. Culver was cross-examined by C. S. Darrow for the miners. Mr. Darrow asked the witness if the company raised the price of coal 50 cents after the strike ended, and he replied that it had, and that so far as he knew the price was still maintained. In answer to other questions, Mr. Culver said that the company was selling coal at tidewater at $5 a ton for prepared sizes. The company sells it to what he termed middlemen. He had no information as to what prices
the middlemen were getting for coal.
The employees of the company are receiving their coal supply at a figure materially under that which the public gets it.

George Anderson of Scranton, a clerk in the coal department of the Delaware and Hudson company, was the next witness. He submitted a statement showing that 2,388 of the 13,258 employees have been in the employ of the company from 10 to 60 years. He told of the workings of the relief fund, and said that since the strike the miners had lost 110 days at 28 different collieries, thus reducing the production of coal by the company 92,561 tons. In reply to a question by the miners' counsel, the witness said he got his information about the lost time from the foremen of the mines.

Thomas R. Thomas, outside foreman of the Jeremyn mine of the Delaware and Hudson company, said he had much trouble with men who refused to load more than a certain number of mine cars. He read a resolution alleged to have been adopted by local union No. 1025, to the effect that any man guilty of loading more than his share of cars should be expelled from the union. The tools of two men who did not abide by this resolution, he said, were destroyed, and the home of one of them was dynamited. Harry Gilbert and Michael McHale corroborated Mr. Thomas' testimony relative to the loading of cars. Recross was then taken.

At Paducah, Ky., Shepherd Green, Jr., and Willis Roberts, each aged 14 years, engaged in a fight and Roberts stabbed Green in the side, fatally wounding him. Roberts is in jail.

As a result of a fight at Annapolis, Md., between midshipman Robert A.
Pearson of Concord, N. H., and Francis G. Blasdel of New York, the former received a broken jaw and the latter is locked up. Pearson refused to be hazed by upper classmen.
